Description

Today I spoke with the IT Manager for a Charitable Trust Based in the North East Region.

During our conversation the client made me aware that he would be very interested in implementing penetration testing as the business had the last testing approximately 18 months ago.

The business have an internal Microsoft firewall and use Miraka, Expo firewalls and Sophos. The client is keen to find out what security improvements could be made for the company as well as introducing independent pen testing into the company.

The main requirements:

- 400 Users
- 400 staff
- 600 - 800 end points
- 600 - 800 Network Users
- 400 Pcs and Laptops
- Security awareness reporting
- Full Threat Analysis
- Microsoft, Miraka and Expo Firewall

The client is open to speaking with vendors via Teams to see what can be offered in terms of service and products. In terms of investment into this project, we discussed indicative prices of up to £2,000 per day of penetration testing.

The IT Manager is the lead influencer on this project and will be including the ICT Director for sign off.

Due to an appetite for regular penetration testing throughout the business, they would be looking to make any decision over the next month so that the preferred partner can be implemented in October 2023.

The client is happy to take introductory calls from via Teams and prefers mid afternoons.

Timescales

 Call:	Teams call on Wednesday or Thursday afternoons only.
 Decision:	Within 3 months.
 Implementation:	Within 4 months.

Budget

I advised the contact of approximately £2,000 per day.
